we're so glad you're here!

FROM OUR BLOG

What would you do with an extra set of eyes?

Or legs?

Or arms?

Staffing in senior living continues to be the most talked about subject in our industry. In order to overcome staffing challenges (Overworked staff, understaffed facilities, everyone spread too thin) we have to think about staffing differently.

Smarter tech can be your extra set of eyes.

It can be your extra set of legs.

Smarter tech can be your extra set of arms.

Employee Spotlight

MEET SAMIR...

Samir Bekhechi, Lead Help Desk Technician, has been serving the tech industry for over 7+ years. There is a saying that "not all hero's wear capes" and Samir, is our senior living tech hero! When he is not out saving the day, he enjoys rock climbing or playing board games. No wonder we can't stump that beautiful brain of his! We, as well as our clients, appreciate the kind, thorough, and forward thinking mindset that he brings to the table everyday. Thank you for being our Superman, Samir!

 Wow! You just made our day!
" It was a pleasure working with Samir to solve our internet problem. He is a very knowledgeable and gifted person. We also appreciated Eldre's good communications and quick responses to our problem. Thanks, >"

Did you know we work with your Resident's and their family members too?

October Smart Tech Webinar

WHAT WOULD YOU DO WITH AN EXTRA SET OF EYES?

Join our hosts, Mike Elness and Kayla Radcliffe with special guest, Dave Sneddon, on Wednesday 10/18 at 1pm to cover how tech can act as an extra set of eyes, hands and legs.

WILL THE SENIOR LIVING STAFF
DROUGHT EVER BREAK?

In August we shared the reality our senior living communities are facing today with staffing and how we see smart technology filling those gaps and needs.
